Tennessee Folklore Society – JCA maintains the offices of the Society and publishes the Tennessee Folklore Society Bulletin. The Bulletin is the oldest regional folklore journal in the United States, founded in 1934. The Laurel Theater is the new address of record for the Society and houses the organization’s archive. JCA Executive Director Brent Cantrell, a longtime member and former president of the Society serves as editor. JCA Concert Manager Toby Koosman is co-editor and treasurer of the organization. The Bulletin is published with support from the Tennessee Arts Commission.
On March 12, 2020, as the first cases appeared in the Knoxville area, the JCA staff and executive committee met and suspended all public events at the Laurel. The full board later ratified that suspension. All upcoming concerts, dances and other public events were suspended until a solution to the pandemic emerges. Our radio programming on WDVX and WUOT continues as do our Laurel Theater social media channels on Facebook and YouTube.

In late December 2020 as the pandemic grew, and in consultation with artists who had been tentatively scheduled for performance in January and February, we decided to cancel those events and begin a truncated spring streaming schedule with our 52nd Jubilee Festival in March 2021. These events are free of charge but we encourage you to tip the artists if you can, and in addition, Jubilee Community Arts welcomes new and renewed memberships and donations.

JCA receives financial support from
The Arts and Culture Alliance of Greater Knoxville,
Bluebird Christmas Tree Farm, The City of Knoxville, Knox County,
The East Tennessee Foundation, The National Endowment for the Arts,
The Tennessee Arts Commission, & Ullrich Printing.
JCA is a member agency of Community Shares.
52nd Jubilee Festival
A celebration of traditional music
FRIDAY-SATURDAY, MARCH 19-20

For over a half century we have showcased old-time music, ballads, blues, shape-note singing and other area music in this annual event. The 52nd Jubilee Festival, like last year’s 51st festival will take place online.

Planning for our first festival started in the fall of 1969 with the implementation of an Appalachian Craft Festival in the spring of 1970 that included a music stage. In the next few years the traditional music component grew and the event came to be known as Jubilee Festival which Jubilee Community Arts has continued to produce each year. Our 50th Jubilee Festival was held during a historic flood, but still filled the Laurel for three days with old and new friends. Though the current pandemic forces us to cancel live events, we cannot let a year go by without the Jubilee Festival.

Join us on Facebook (Laurel Theater) for two nights of music:

Friday, March 19
6:30 - Epworth Old Harp, singing from the New Harp of Columbia (from our archive)
7:00 - John Alvis and friends, old-time string band
7:30 - Dew Fisher and April Hamilton, country blues
8:00 - Kelle Jolly, Knoxville jazz singer
8:30 - Greg Horne, song writing and old-time music
9:00 - Joseph Decosimo, old-time fiddle and banjo
9:30 - Dan Gammon, traditional song
9:45 - Y’uns, traditional and popular song

Saturday, March 20
7:00 - Leah Gardner & Peggy Hambright, traditional song
7:30 - Don Cassell with Nancy Strange and Don Wood, jazz and swing
8:00 - Darrell and Nancy Acuff, old-time music
8:15 - Lone Mountain Drifters, old-time string band
8:45 - Herb Williams and Kathleen McGregor Williams, old-time music
9:15 - Matt Morelock, old-time banjo
9:45 - Mumbillies, old-time string band (from our archive)

This schedule is subject to change. Details and updates will be available on jubileearts.org.

Jay Clark
and the Tennessee Tree Beavers
FRIDAY, APRIL 16, 8 P.M.

Blount County songwriter Jay Clark and his band, the Tennessee Tree Beavers (Greg Horne, Daniel Kimbro, & Cory Kimbro). Jay will be debuting “Kingston,” a song co-written by Jay and Daniel along with a Kingston coal ash worker that is fighting for his life as a result of cleaning up the largest industrial spill in U.S. history. Jay and the Tree Beavers, along with a few special guests, will present a musical documentary that tells the story of the coal ash spill at TVA’s Kingston Fossil Plant and the heroic efforts of the workers that cleaned up the toxic mess. Many of the Kingston coal ash workers have died. Many more are sick and dying. Jay dedicates this show to them and their families.

Broadcast and Streaming During the Pandemic

In addition to our regular WDVX and WUOT radio broadcasts we are adding internet streaming on Facebook. We chose Facebook because many of our regular local artists are currently using it for home internet broadcasts. We may consider additional methods of presenting our programs, at least until we can get back to live events.

A big thank you to our members for their continuing support!
