The mission of Jubilee Community Arts is to promote, preserve, and present the traditional performing arts of the southern Appalachian region and to nurture the cultural milieu responsible for the birth and evolution of these and related art forms.
The heart of the band is the driving mountain fiddling of David Bass complemented by the clawhammer banjo and vocals of Frank Lee, with the rhythm section of string bass and Allie Burbink on guitar and vocals. Their repertoire includes music that was first recorded in the late 1920's and early 1930's and spans geographically from Mississippi to West Virginia.

South Carolina Broadcasters
Old-time Stringband
Saturday, January 27 8 p.m.

Based in Mount Airy, North Carolina, the South Carolina Broadcasters are an award winning old-time trio featuring Ivy Sheppard on fiddle, banjo, guitar and vocals; Andy Edmunds on fiddle, guitar and vocals; and David Sheppard on guitar and vocals. Tight harmonies and exceptional instrumentation give the group a powerful old-time sound. They've played with some of the great stringbands of the past—Ivy with the Roan Mountain Hilltoppers and Andy with Benton Flippen's Smokey Valley Boys. David is a renowned luthier. They draw their inspiration from the Carter Family and early country duos.

Georgia Crackers
Old-time String Band
Saturday, February 3, 8 p.m.

Influenced by the great Georgia musicians of the 1920s and 1930s, including Gid Tanner, Riley Puckett, Lowe Stokes, Clayton McMichen, John Carson, A.A. Gray, Georgia Yellow Hammers, Earl Johnson, John Dilleshaw, Georgia Wildcats, and Slim Bryant, the Georgia Crackers keep alive the spirit of spontaneity and improvisation in the old-time string band tradition. Along with old-time singer Kenneth Johnson on guitar and Chip Corbitt on clawhammer banjo, this rhythm section holds it down for Fiddlin' Mick Kinney.

$15 General Day of Show • $8 Children 12 & under

Knoxville Square Dance
with the Hellgrammites
Thursday, January 11, 8 P.M.

More traditional regional square dance, again featuring fine old-time music by the Hellgrammites with callers Leo Collins and Stan Sharp. No special training or equipment required — all square dances will be taught and called. Live old-time music. No taps.

$5 JCA Members & Students • $7 General Admission

Tennessee Sheiks
Acoustic Swing
Saturday, January 13, 8 P.M.

The Sheiks are Don Cassell on mandolin, guitar, dobro, and vocals; Nancy Brennan Strange on guitar, vocals; Don Wood on guitar; Barry (Po) Hannah on guitar; Ken Wood on percussion, vocals; Michael Crawley on blues harp, vocals; and Will Yeager on bass. Taking inspiration from the great Gypsy guitarist Django Reinhardt, they describe their music as “acoustic swing.” They are known individually for their work with area bands and musicians for over 20 years working in bluegrass, old-time, jazz and swing idioms, including the Dismembered Tennesseans and Strange Company.

RB Morris with Hector Qirko
Songwriter & Poet
Friday, January 19, 8 P.M.

Knoxville’s first Poet Laureate, singer and songwriter, playwright and band leader RB Morris returns to his “pulpit” at the Laurel Theater with Hector Qirko. Morris is a poet who writes emotionally intense songs full of ideas and unexpected word-play and sings them in arrangements that emphasize the rhythmic interchange between words and music. His most recent album was Rich Mountain Bound.

Freight Hoppers
Old-Time String Band
Saturday, January 20, 8 P.M.

The band started presenting their energetic take on fiddle band music four times a day, seven days a week at the Great Smoky Mountains Railway shortly after forming in 1992.

The heart of the band is the driving mountain fiddling of David Bass complemented by the clawhammer banjo and vocals of Frank Lee, with the rhythm section of string bass and Allie Burbink on guitar and vocals. Their repertoire includes music that was first recorded in the late 1920's and early 1930's and spans geographically from Mississippi to West Virginia.

Bill and the Belles
Old-Time & 1920s Song
Saturday, February 10, 8 p.m.
With striking three-part harmonies and masterful instrumentation, Bill and the Belles skillfully present the sounds of early country music. The Johnson City based group focus on the music traditions of their region, from sentimental Southern ballads to regional fiddle breakdowns, a Bill and the Belles show is a celebration of the diversity country music once represented.

$15 General Day of Show • $8 Children 12 & under

Malcolm Holcombe
“Derelict Country”
Friday, February 16, 8 p.m.
Born and raised in the Blue Ridge Mountains of North Carolina, Malcolm Holcombe is recognized as a performer of national stature, a guitarist/vocalist about whom Rolling Stone magazine says: “Haunted country, acoustic blues and rugged folk all meet [here]....” His newest album is Pretty Little Troubles.

$12 JCA Members, Students, Seniors • $13 General Advance
$15 General Day of Show • $8 Children 12 and under

Wallace Coleman
Blues Harp
Saturday, February 17, 8 p.m.
Growing up in East Tennessee, Wallace Coleman was captivated by the sounds he heard late at night from Nashville’s WLAC. It was on WLAC that Coleman first heard his greatest musical influences: Little Walter, Sonny Boy Williamson, Howlin’ Wolf, Muddy Waters. Coleman left Tennessee in 1956 to find work in Cleveland. He began playing professionally with Cleveland’s Guitar Slim and caught the ear of audience member Robert “Jr.” Lockwood, joining his band in 1987. Still based in Cleveland, Wallace has been leading his own band since 1997.

49th Annual Jubilee Festival
A celebration of traditional music
Friday-Sunday, February 23-25
JCA showcases some of the finest practitioners of mountain music across the generations, home grown in our own backyard. Friday and Saturday night we will have old time string bands and song and plenty of jamming in the basement. The festival concludes with Old Harp Singing on Sunday. This year’s performances include plenty of old-time with some blues, early jazz and traditional song. See the full schedule on the back.

The Jubilee Festival is part of the Penny4Arts Program — with the advance purchase of one adult ticket through our regular ticket outlets up to three children’s tickets may be purchased for a penny each. Penny tickets are limited and must be reserved in advance through the JCA office at 522-5851.

Fri & Sat Each Evening: $12 JCA Members, Students, Seniors • $13 General Advance • $15 General Day of Show • $8 Children 12 & under • (Sunday Free)
